CRG, VERY GOOD FEDERER AND CAMPONESCHI IN QUALY AT WACKERSDORF

Federer and Camponeschi came to the fore so far in the KZ World Championship, the event underway in Wackersdorf (Germany). De Conto did not manage to put together the right lap and is ninth. Andrea Dalè and Jorrit Pex among the quickest too.

The long weekend of the KZ World Championship and International Super Cup KZ2 in Wackersdorf (Germany) has begun. CRG reached this appointment as the reigning champion of both categories.

As tradition, CRG has introduced a new livery for its karts and drivers clothing in this occasion. The new motorhome is also stunning with its brand new graphic design.

In KZ, after a series of great results in free practice, the reigning World Champion Paolo De Conto had to settle for P9 on CRG-Tm in the first Series of qualifying held on Friday evening. "I would have needed one more lap to post a good time – Paolo De Conto stated – but I am cool for the races of tomorrow."

Flavio Camponeschi had a very positive start in his comeback to racing after the muscular injury sustained in Finland. Camponeschi obtained in fact the fourth time of the first qualifying session, which is a good starting point ahead of qualifying heats on Saturday.

OFFICIAL CRG PARTNERS

The best of CRG drivers in KZ has been Fabian Federer (SRP Racing Team), who was second in Series 2 being only 0.022s off the pole position time. The other CRG drivers displayed good performances in Series 1: Andrea Dalè (Nuova 3M) was 7th, Jorrit Pex 8th and Alessandro Giardelli 15th, while Stan Pex was 9th in Series 2 and Macau's driver Wing Chung Chang was 13th.

In KZ2, the quickest of CRG drivers was the Dutch of CRG Holland Benjamin Tornqvist Persson, who was fastest of Series 4, while his fellow-countryman Max Tubben was fifth in Series 2 and Fabrizio Rosati (SRP Racing Team) seventh in Series 2. The Dutch driver Joey Hanssen (CRG Holland) has been shining in Series 3, while the others are lagging behind. They will have the chance to get some ground back in qualifying heats on Saturday though.
