GREAT PERFORMANCES BY CRG DRIVERS AT THE WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP IN ENGLAND

Callum Bradshaw has put in a great result in qualifying taking the pole position in OK. Flavio Camponeschi very strong on the kart featuring a livery dedicated to Jules Bianchi in the context of a new CRG project. Gabriel Bortoleto quickest of CRG drivers in OK Junior.

The OK and OK-Junior World Championship has kicked off as a great battle that will be fought this weekend at the PF International circuit located near Brandon (UK). Qualifying held on Friday afternoon have defined the first protagonists of this important event and CRG drivers have come to the fore.

The pole position of OK has been set by Callum Bradshaw, on CRG-Parilla-LeCont. He completed his best lap in 54.892s during the first heat, a result that was not matched by anyone else. The young British driver of CRG won last year the CIK-FIA Academy Karting Trophy and has been very strong again on a circuit that seems to suit him very well.

Among the quickest of OK, the other British driver Louie Westover who is at his debut with CRG and claimed P5 in the first session in 55.139s, while CRG Keijzer Racing Team's Glenn Van Berlo was 11th in 55.226s. Flavio Camponeschi has also been very strong, posting the sixth time in 55.413s in session two. He will be racing here on a chassis featuring a livery dedicated to Jules Bianchi ahead of a new sporting project that CRG will start in 2018. The Norwegian Dennis Hauger is currently a bit behind in P13, as he completed his best loop in 55.609s.
